Director of Communications and Digital Strategy

[CLEVELAND, OH] John R. Corlett, president and executive director of The Center for Community Solutions, announced today that Ms. Dani Carlson will become the organization's director of communications and digital strategy on January 22.

Corlett commented, "Dani understands the importance of building relationships and the powerful impact of digital media, and that's why we're so pleased she will be leading CCS' communications strategy moving forward."

Dani is an Emmy-award-winning investigative reporter, who has worked in journalism for more than 10 years, most recently as a reporter for Cleveland's CBS affiliate, WOIO Channel 19.

A proud graduate of Northwestern University's Medill School, Dani also brought her real world experiences back into the classroom as a journalism instructor at her alma mater and at Kent State University. She is excited to start this new chapter with CCS.

A nonprofit, non-partisan think tank founded in 1913, The Center for Community Solutions focuses on solutions to health, social and economic issues. With offices in Cleveland and Columbus, Community Solutions identifies, analyzes, and explains key health, social, and economic data and issues, and proposes non-partisan solutions to improve the lives of Ohioans.
