Authors of book on how to reduce poverty to speak with beneficiaries of program

CLEVELAND, OH – How do you solve poverty? It's a complex question that authors Philip DeVol and Eugene Krebs tackle in their new book, "Bridges Across Every Divide: Policy and Practices to Reduce Poverty and Build Communities." On Tuesday at 8:30 am, DeVol and Krebs will speak about their new book in front of an expected crowd of 100 people, at Lutheran Metropolitan Ministries. The authors will answer questions and be joined by two graduates of the Great Lakes Bridges Out of Poverty program, Angellina Irizarry and April Klein. Irizarry and Klein will talk about how their lives have changed as a result of their participation in the Bridges out of Poverty program.

This is a Human Service Advocacy Network event organized by The Center for Community Solutions. Community Solutions is a non-profit, non-partisan think tank focused on finding solutions to health, social and economic issues. Community Solutions' efforts are critical to the work and effectiveness of direct service organizations in Northeast Ohio.

We hope you'll be able to join us for this special event.
