Statement by John Corlett on Behalf of the Center for Community Solutions Regarding U.S. Supreme Court Decision in Dobbs vs. Jackson

“The Supreme Court decision today overturning Roe v. Wade will have a profound impact on the wellbeing of women, pregnant persons, children and families in Ohio; it will require us to examine every aspect of Ohio’s health and human services system and significant new public investments will need to be made in order to protect lives and health. A key concern will be women, and people of color who are too often marginalized in our health and human service systems as a result of structural sexism and racism and who will be more negatively impacted by this decision. Community Solutions stands ready to join others in this work.”
